Welcome to the 21st Herefordshire Art Week

h.Art is a not to be missed early Autumn treat involving over four hundred artists in over 140 venues. 9 days of joyful inspiration, unique finds and the chance to buy direct from the creator. Meet them in their creative habitats, pop up shows in lots of unexpected places and galleries. Many artists only open their work spaces once a year, giving you a rare insight into their creative lives and their individual practice. You can chat, just browse, buy or commission direct.

Venues open every day 11 - 5pm - pages 3 to 34. Some of these venues also open earlier or later, see details on their listing.

Venues with varied open or closed times or days - pages 35 to 37.

Special Events - on map pages. If you want to get creative yourself, see artists in action or listen to an expert.

Don't forget the website www.h-art.org.uk – it's live all year and gives you the opportunity to keep up to date with all of the artists, click on ALL VENUES. Every artist has an Artist Profile page, which includes their contact details, information about them and their practice and 8 images they regularly renew.

Some open for h.Art Christmas events, see details from early November on the home page www.h-art.org.uk.

Your fold out map of the county showing locations of all h.Art venues is attached in the middle.

Effie Williams h.Art Emerging Artist Bursary Winner

Effie Williams

'Blooming Lovely'

'Flight of Fancy'

Effie Williams h.Art Emerging Artist Bursary Winner is a young milliner with an "old soul", as she describes herself, her main inspiration is the iconic fashion and culture of the 40's, 50's and 60's.

'Effie Williams Millinery' was started in Sept 2022 with the backing and business mentor support from The Princes Trust. Effie accomplished the Enterprise Programme for 18-30yr olds.

Effie's plan is to produce two seasonal collections a year, along with a bridal collection. She's currently working on 'Blooming Lovely' her Spring Summer collection, which features delicate flowers and bees, are all handmade and sewn. She uses traditional millinery techniques and tools: hat blocks; dying; steaming and stiffening materials like wheat straw, felt, leather and the lovely sounding Sinamay, made from banana fibre.

Effie is a member of The Guild of Craftsmen and apart from her h.Art open studio, you can find her at places like the Malvern Spring Show, she loves working to commission and creating something bespoke and personal. "Exhibiting at hArt will allow my work to be introduced to a new audience, allowing me to gain new networking possibilities, as well as to new clients, and also I have recently moved studios, it will be lovely to introduce people to the little-known world of millinery and hopefully show that this heritage craft is no longer just the fluffy feather fascinators or big outdated hats so many first think of".

TAKE 4 prides itself by being a welcoming haven for visitors where one can enjoy discussing art (amongst other things!) and rolling exhibitions which take place throughout the year. Though the gallery is small, we enjoy combining a mix of 2D and 3D works that use a generic title from which to work from. Our very popular Meet the Maker event that takes place each Saturday has become a mainstay and a go-to for art lovers. Makers demonstrate their method and craft as well as giving an insight as to what inspires them in their particular field.

MYRIAD - The artists included in this year's exhibition are: Humphrey Stanley, a local renowned artist who specialises in more detailed work inspired by nature, Caroline Bousfield an excellent Ledbury based ceramicist and Tessa Tyldsley, our delightful jeweller who marries beautiful semi precious stones with silver. Alongside we have Victoria Harrison's stunning mosaics and Rachel Higgins intricate wire sculptures. Joining them is textile artist Cheryl Hewitt (who works and curates at TAKE 4) and painter and artist in residence Caroline Green.

During h.Art TAKE 4 will be hosting daily demonstrations. Open daily during h.Art from 10 until 5.

Open: 10am - 5pm

Directions: With the Market House, Ledbury on the right, walk towards Homend and TAKE 4 is on the left between Clubsport and Homend Shopping Mall.

There are cards and original prints, richly patterned and joyful still lives by Rose and functional earthenware as well as wacky 'antipod' objects by Malcolm Turner.

There is new original jewellery by Saoirse as well as some of her best seller designs, and paintings and sculptures by Ciara of all sizes including a whole new collection of work which has not been exhibited elsewhere yet! We hope to see old and new friends and will be providing refreshments as always.

We love opening our venue for h.Art and are looking forward to showcasing our newest work.

Helen Munday h.Art Emerging Artist Bursary Winner

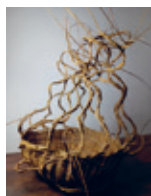

Helen Munday is an artist basket maker, her work takes two directions; one making functional basketry, honing traditional techniques and skills to create beautiful receptacles for storage, carrying. The other, making sculptural pieces in response to lots of different stimuli, for example 'Chaos' made in response to the current 'political mess'. It's very important to Helen's creativity to have a circular, sustainable ethos, using natural materials such as willow, grown or gathered by herself

Since graduating with a 1st Class BA honours in Contemporary Design Crafts from Hereford College of Arts last year, Helen has been successful in being sought out by several notable galleries and shows: The Scottish Gallery, New Ashgate Gallery, The Found Gallery and 'Green Grads' at Grand Designs.

Helen loves teaching and sharing her skills, she runs workshops once a month at Hellen's Manor in the Haywain Barn at Much Marcle. She will also be running courses at Jenny Pickford & Friends during h.Art Week.

Plans for the future around the functional side of Helen's practice are to run 2-day workshops and residential courses. Alongside growing her artistic/sculptural work to feed her creative designs, whilst giving her crucial time to play and experiment.
